GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on non-riparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

Dear Mr. Koso Nodohara:

I am submitting the enclosed Supplemental Statement of Water Diversion and Use forms for 1994, 1995 and 1996.

Please note the corrections highlighted adding names to the Owner of Record. These six owners of the Childs-Bowley-Calkins Ditch and their predecessors have had uncontested use of water from the diversions noted for 113 years. This amendment will now show all of the owners on one statement.

Please contact me at (916)337-6885 if you have any questions.

If I do not hear from you in the next 30 days, I will consider the amendment accepted and all future statements will reflect the additional owners.

Thank you.

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same water shed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by a riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include:

GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the source of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, or return flows from use of groundwater.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on nonriparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914 new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversion, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include:

STATEMENT OF WATER DIVERSION AND USE

S 1453

This statement should be typewritten or legibly written in ink.

A. Name of person diverting water Wilbur J. Spaulding

Address 2551 Mtn. Blvd., Oakland, California 94611

B. Name of body of water at point of diversion See Exhibit A and Terry Tract Map attached.

Tributary to See attached Terry Tract Map

C. Place of diversion ¼ ¼ Section, Township, Range, B&M,

Shasta County, or locate it on sketch of section grid on reverse side with regard to section lines or prominent local landmarks.

D. Name of works Childs, Bowley, Calkins, Ditch

E. Capacity of diversion works Total flow at diversion points (cubic feet per second / gallons per minute / gallons / acre-feet)

Capacity of storage reservoir 5000 Gallons

State quantity of water used each month in gallons or acre-feet

Year	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.	Total Annual
					X	X	X	X	X	X

If monthly and annual use are not known, check months in which water was used. State extent of use in units, such as acres of each crop irrigated, average number of persons served, number of stock watered, etc. 60 acres Alfalfa and 8 acres orchard.

Maximum annual water use in recent years Estimated 75 million gallons ~~acre-feet~~

Minimum annual water use in recent years Estimated 52 million gallons ~~acre-feet~~

Type of diversion facility: gravity X, pump

Method of measurement: weir, flume, electric power meter, water meter, estimate

F. Purpose of use (what water is being used for) Irrigation of crops.

G. General description or location of place of use (use sketch of section grid on reverse side if you desire)

N. E. 1/4 Section 17 T 34N R1E MDB&M RK

H. Year of first use as nearly as known 1897

I. Name of person filing statement Wilbur J. Spaulding
