GENERAL INFORMATION PERTAINING TO WATER RIGHTS IN CALIFORNIA

There are two principal types of surface water rights in California. They are riparian and appropriative rights.

A riparian right enables an owner of land bordering a natural lake or stream to take and use water on his riparian land. Riparian land must be in the same watershed as the water source and must never have been severed from the sources of supply by an intervening parcel without reservation of the riparian right to the severed parcel. Generally, a riparian water user must share the water supply with other riparian users. Riparian rights may be used to divert the natural flow of a stream but may not be used to store water for later use or to divert water which originates in a different watershed, water previously stored by others, return flows from use of groundwater, or other "foreign" water to the natural stream system.

An appropriative right is required for use of water on non-riparian land and for storage of water. Generally, appropriative rights may be exercised only when there is a surplus not needed by riparian water users. Since 1914, new appropriators have been required to obtain a permit and license from the State. Appropriative rights can be granted to waters "foreign" to the natural stream system.

Statements of Water Diversion and Use must be filed by riparian and pre-1914 appropriative water users as set forth in Water Code section 5100 with specific exceptions. The filing of a statement (1) provides a record of water use, (2) enables the State to notify such users if someone proposes a new appropriation upstream from their diversions, and (3) assists the State to determine if additional water is available for future appropriators.

The above discussion is provided for general information. For more specific information concerning water rights, please contact an attorney or write to this office. We have several pamphlets available. They include: (1) Statements of Water Diversion and Use, (2) Information Pertaining to Water Rights in California, and (3) Appropriation of Water in California.

Dear Mr. Garst:

STATEMENT OF WATER DIVERSION AND USE NUMBERS 10376 THROUGH 10383 - VARIOUS SOURCES IN TEHAMA COUNTY

In your letter of October 2, 1990, you requested a change in ownership of water right number 10376. A review of our files shows that 10376 is a Statement of Water Diversion and Use (Statement) that was filed by the former owner, Roney Land and Cattle Company. Further review of our records shows that Roney Land and Cattle Company had also filed Statement Numbers 10377 through 10383 in the vicinity of Statement 10376 (copies enclosed). Please review the attached copies of maps that show the locations of the above Statements. Please let us know which Statements fall within the boundary of the property that you have acquired. Following the receipt of your reply, we will make the appropriate assignments.

Our records also show water rights under the ownership of Roney Land and Cattle Company for property in Lassen County. We assume that your acquisition did not involve any of this property.

If I can be of further assistance, please write or call (916) 324-5689.

Sincerely,
